HIGHWAY 43 FATALITY—Bobby Joe Tarver, 25, of Picayune was killed Tuesday night when his tractor trailer loaded with soybeans collided with two cows on Hwy. 43 five miles north of Cuevas Junction, according to State Trooper Curtis Newman who handled the accident. Hancock Coroner Carl Banderet said Tarver's death was attributed to internal injuries of the head at an inquest held at the scene. Newman reported Tarver was traveling south when he apparently struck two stray cows on the highway, losing control of the truck. The cab of the vehicle had to be lifted to remove the driver. The body was taken to McDonald's Funeral Home in Picayune, N.A. Perniciaro and Sons Wrecker Service removed the vehicle from the roadway. Newman was assisted by State Troopers Earl (Mike) Cox and Tony Greer on traffic control. Mobile Medic Ambulance Service and Diamondhead Rescue responded to the scene. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

Council solicits complaints

House moving incident angers Bay residents

By BRENT MACEY

The Bay St. Louis City Council is requesting citizens who sustained property damages when a house was moved in the Cedar Point area of the city this week to contact City Hall with any complaints.

The council is considering filing suit against the moving company and the owner of the house if all property allegedly damaged during the moving process is not repaired.

Several councilmen at a Tuesday meeting, noted they received numerous complaints this week from residents who said mailboxes, tree limbs, and traffic signs were uprooted when the house was moved from the corner of Dunbar Avenue and US-90 to Felicite Street on Monday.

According to Councilman James Thrifflie III, the house, which was apparently wider than the street in certain areas, was moved north on Dunbar Avenue to Corinth Drive, and then to property on Felicite Street.

City Clerk Eddie Favre said Wednesday that he will attempt to find out what rehabilitation plans the home owner has for his house.

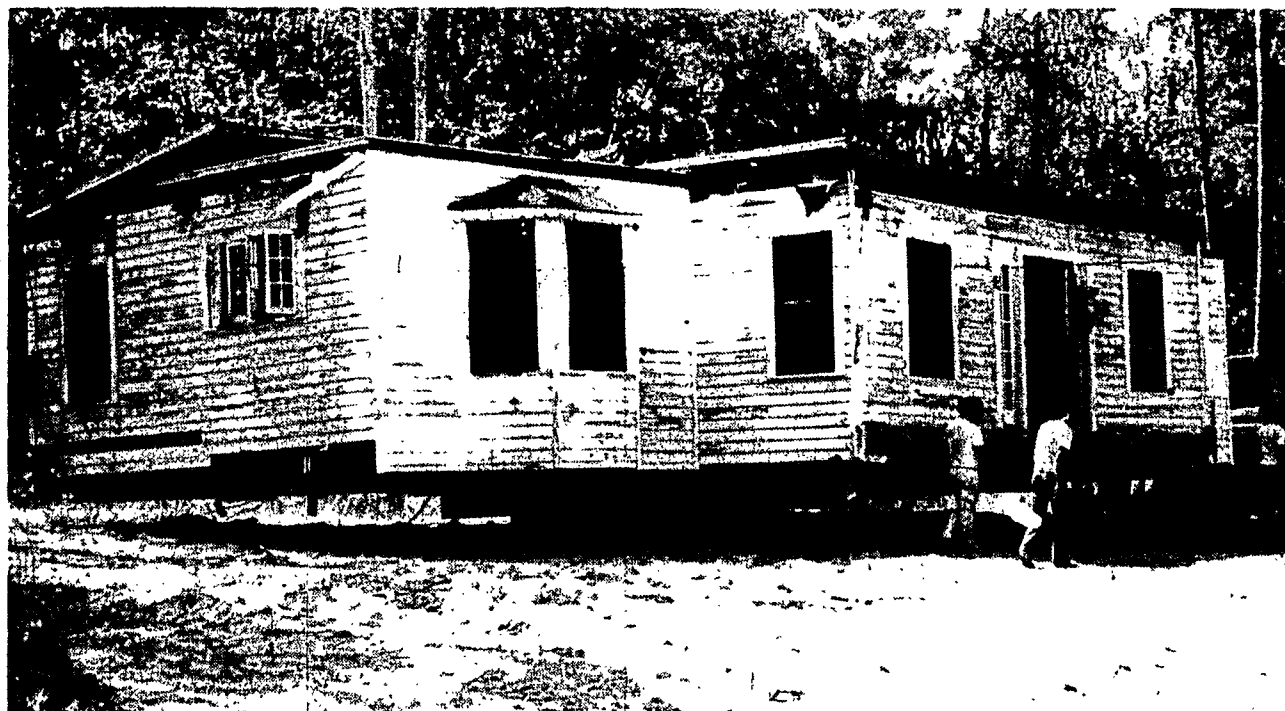

He said Wednesday he believes the home owner's name is Mike Grissaffi and was uncertain of the name of the moving company.

The council recessed until all complaints are filed with City Hall.

City Attorney Joseph Gex recommended the council, after receiving citizen complaints, restore all property which residents claim have been damaged.

If the company refuses, Gex recommended a suit be filed against both the moving company and the home owner.

Check passing try implicates man

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A Pass Christian man was arrested by Gulfport Police trying to pass a check allegedly taken from a Hancock County resident during a burglary, according to Hancock Investigator Delbert Seay.

Seay said, "Gulfport Police called the sheriff's office Monday saying they had a suspect who was allegedly trying to pass a forged check. The check belonged to Andrew Lott, a resident of the Texas Flat Road and Hwy. 603 whose home was burglarized on Oct. 7. Approximately $11,200 of merchandise was reported as missing."

Gulfport Police arrested Thomas Hebert, 25, Rt. 3, Box 612, Pass Christian and he is lodged in the Harrison County jail in lieu of a $5,000 bond on a charge of forgery, and was also charged with burglary of a residence in Hancock County with a preliminary hearing scheduled before Justice Court Judge Bruce Necaise, according to Seay.

In other police activities, a Kessler Airman lost his foot in an accident on the Caesar-Necaise Road Sunday afternoon.

Hancock Sheriff Ronald Peterson said, "Robert Dale Cortner, Lot 5, Vandenberg Trailer Park, Biloxi was traveling east on a motorcycle when he apparently lost control of the vehicle and struck a car driven by Estus C. Ladner, 514 2nd Ave., Picayune."

"Cortner struck the bumper of the auto driven by Ladner, losing a foot. The motorist was trying to avoid striking him because he saw he was out of control on the motorcycle," Peterson added.

The sheriff continued, "The airman stopped his bike and asked a friend to help, who tied a tourniquet on his leg and transported him to Crosby Memorial Hospital in a pickup truck."

Hancock Deputy Willie Lee found the severed foot and took it to Crosby Memorial.

Cortner was later transported by helicopter to the Kessler Medical Center in Biloxi.

Hancock Deputy David Garcia investigated the accident.

Judge determines Billiot competent to stand trial

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Place Two Circuit Court Judge J. Ruble Griffin Wednesday in Gulfport ruled James Billiot is able to stand trial and assist in his defense.

Griffin also agreed to conduct Billiot's trial sometime in December in Gulfport, but not away from the Hancock-Harrison County area as requested by the alleged-murderer's attorneys.

The judge's decision followed several hours of testimony Monday through Wednesday by law enforcement personnel, county officials, Billiot's relatives, his attorney Nicholas (Mac) Haas, psychiatrists and psychologists.

Billiot is charged with the bludgeoning killing of three of his family members at their Leetown Community home Thanksgiving Day.

The pre-trial hearing was conducted at the request of Billiot's attorneys, Haas and Yvonne Sills, who filed motions to suppress statements their client made to law enforcement officials on various occasions, declare Billiot mentally incapable of standing trial and move the trial out of the local area due to media coverage.

Griffin just after noon Wednesday determined immediately after testimony was completed that all Billiot's statements to law enforcement officers could be utilized in the trial.

The judge said law enforcement officers properly informed Billiot of his civil rights and did not threaten him or promise anything to secure the statements.

"He also is able to stand trial and assist counsel," Griffin stated.

The Place Two judge said all testimony, except Billiot's on Tuesday,

James Billiot, alleged murderer of three of his own family members in the Leetown Community on Thanksgiving Day, says he is sane.

Billiot offered his opinion Tuesday in a hearing at the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis.

Place Two Circuit Court Judge J. Ruble Griffin determined Wednesday the defendant is competent to stand trial and statements he offered to law enforcement officials could be utilized in a trial to be sometime in December.

The hearing concluded Wednesday afternoon at the Harrison County Courthouse in Gulfport. The court action was moved from Hancock to accommodate testifying psychiatrists and psychologists.

Billiot remained unemotional throughout the three-day hearing except when he was asked to testify and a Hancock County Circuit Clerk Henry Otis will remain in office for three more weeks pending a special audit of the Circuit Court Office and a pre-sentence report by the Mississippi Department of Corrections.

The report and the audit should be completed by Nov. 5, District Attorney Albert Necaise told Judge Hester of Laurel, who presided over the trial.

At that time Otis will automatically be removed from office, Necaise said. He will also be required to repay all monies which the audit determines was missing from Circuit Clerk's office between Oct. 1973 and October 1981.

Otis, who had been indicted for embezzling some $49,000 of county money by virtue of his office, pled guilty to a lesser misdemeanor offense Tuesday in Circuit Court.

That offense is reserved for public officials who allegedly fail to perform duties required by law, including keeping records required of the office, Necaise said.

The maximum penalty for the lesser offense is six months in the county jail, a $1,000 fine or both.

District Attorney Albert Necaise stated the special audit will determine the exact figure which Otis will be required to reimburse the county.

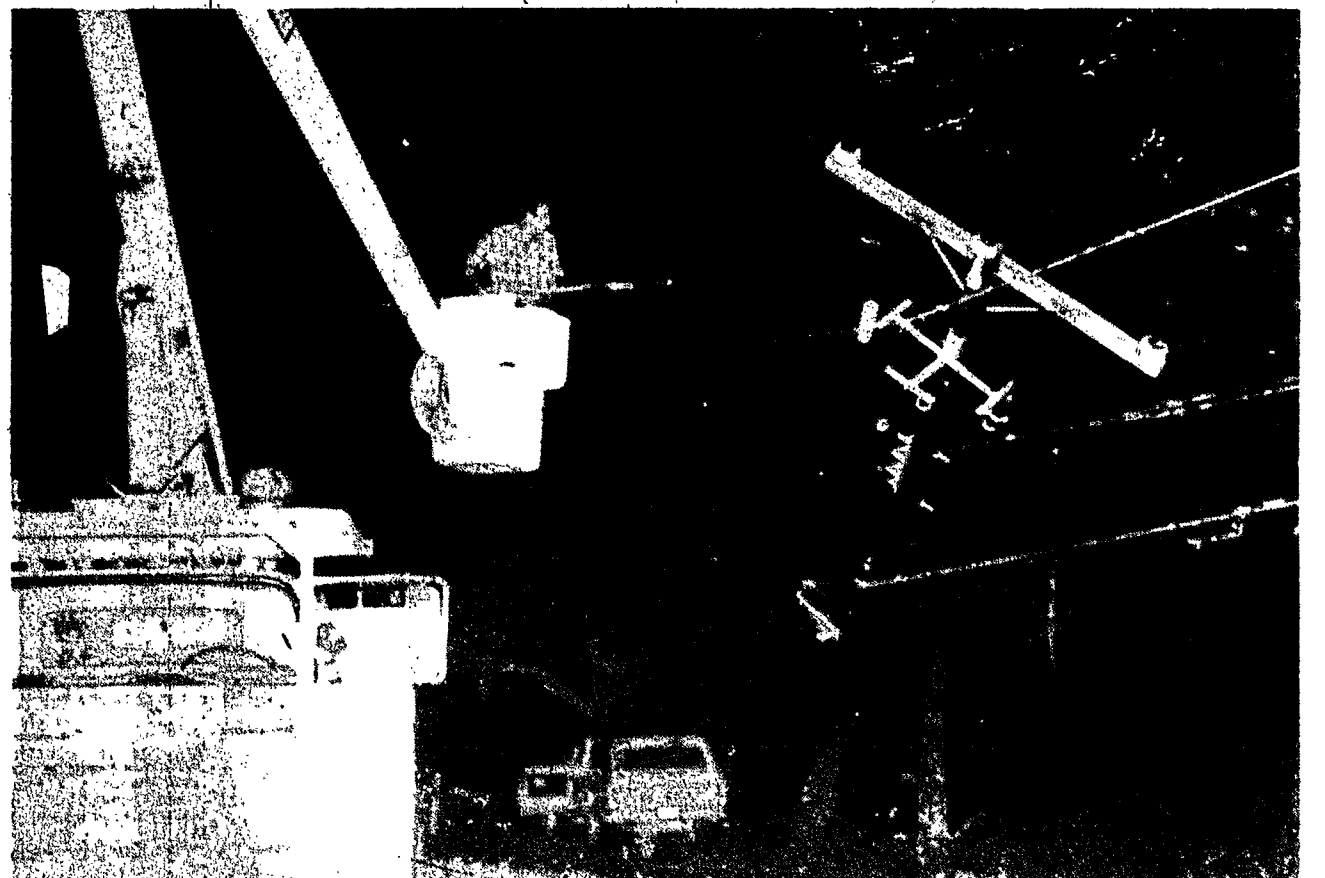

He noted that amount is "substantial," and estimated that amount is more than $20,000.

The Otis trial was stopped Tuesday when charges were reduced after pro-indicated the defendant is able to stand trial.

Billiot's rambling testimony included he is Jesus Christ and has lived in previous centuries as various ruthless rulers and pirates.

Griffin did accept Haas and Sills' motion asking for a change of venue and moved the trial to the First Judicial District Court of Harrison in Gulfport.

Haas objected because Hancock is in that district and local print and electronic mediums have extensively reported events surrounding the case.

The judge stated Gulfport would be the most convenient location for the trial for all parties involved and least costly.

He said the Billiot case had received the same amount of publicity as many other local trials.

Griffin noted "The Sea Coast Echo" had provided the most extensive coverage of the case, but the newspaper does not circulate extensively in Harrison.

But the judge reserved a final ruling on the change of venue motion pending review of possible jurors for the trial.

Griffin would not set a trial date even after District Attorney Albert Necaise repeatedly asked for one, but the judge said the court action would probably be scheduled in December.

The judge also directed that Billiot's attorneys be allowed to view all physical evidence to be presented in the trial.

Earlier that morning Dr. A.G. Anderson, a psychiatrist formerly of the Whitfield Forensic Unit who examined Billiot recently, testified the alleged murderer suffered delusions, but was "fully competent" to stand trial.

Throughout all testimony Billiot remained unemotional and stroked his scraggly beard and long hair with one hand.

But as Anderson testified, Billiot began grinning and laughed twice for no apparent reason.

Anderson represented the majority group of Whitfield doctors who determined Billiot as sane.

When asked by Necaise and Haas if Billiot could understand civil rights information told to him by officers, Anderson said he could not determine that because the defendant said his attorneys advised him not to discuss that aspect of the arrest.

Just before Anderson, Dr. William G. Johnson, chief of clinical psychology at Whitfield who represented the staff minority which determined the alleged murderer is insane, said Billiot is defensive, tries to place himself in a more favorable light, is a paranoid schizophrenic with average intelligence.

But he reported Billiot is competent to stand trial based on psychological tests.

Billiot sat quietly, stroking his mustache and beard.

Dr. Henry Maggio, a Gulfport psychiatrist, testified he and Dr. Leonard Ball, also of Gulfport, examined Billiot and determined him sane, in touch with reality and competent to stand trial.

Maggio said Billiot has an antisocial disorder, a polydrug problem and is schizophrenic.

But the psychiatrist said he could not definitely determine if Billiot was psychotic (detached from reality) when he apparently murdered his mother, stepfather and step-sister.

Billiot began cracking his hand knuckles.

In response to Griffin's asking why Billiot claimed to be Jesus and various historical characters, Maggio stated, "Most of his (Billiot's) speech is goal oriented but he can be arrogant, defensive and somewhat uncooperative."

We Can't Let Criminals Get Away With Murder

Crockett Lindsey Won't...As Judge

All across America, it's the same!

Vicious crime stains our sidewalks. Parks and playgrounds are silenced by fear while criminals are released to stalk new victims.

Some say the hands of justice are tied. Crockett Lindsey says they aren't.

As a Municipal Judge, his tough, no-nonsense approach devised programs to keep serious offenders off our streets.

As a concerned parent, he's alarmed by the devastation of crime in our community.

We can't let criminals get away with murder. As Judge... Crockett Lindsey won't.

ON NOVEMBER 2 ELECT CROCKETT LINDSEY
CIRCUIT COURT JUDGE

(Paid political advertisement read and approved by Crockett Lindsey.)

Leadership in Congress begins in our own backyard.

With life seeming to get more complicated every day and many politicians seeming to pay less attention to people's problems, it's a rare man who can still get things done in Washington. South Mississippians depend on a talented conservative we sent to Congress in 1972, an individual who worked to master the art of getting action from an indifferent bureaucracy.

A variety of letters now crosses Trent Lott's desk every day. With each, there are special problems to solve, unique circumstances to consider. Yet, each case is handled with the same penetrating insight, whether it involves social security benefits for an elderly lady in Leakesville or a multi-million-dollar contract for Pascagoula's shipyard.

Trent Lott's unhesitating enthusiasm to tackle the tough ones has earned the admiration of his colleagues and the respect of the federal bureaucracy. For many people, he is their personal link with the federal government.

Now, as second-ranking leader of his party in Congress, his Mississippi-trained voice of reason and logic is heard at the highest levels. Presidents seek his advice. Congressional leaders depend on his judgment. But, more importantly, Trent Lott never forgets his commitment to the people of Mississippi and their problems.

TRENT LOTT FOR MISSISSIPPI

AUTHORIZED AND PAID FOR BY THE TRENT LOTT FOR CONGRESS COMMITTEE.

Bits 'n pieces

There is a lot of activity in the area of the Hancock County Courthouse with all the trials being conducted. Parking is a big problem, especially with Main Street under renovation. We hope Courthouse patrons and regular downtowners will keep cool heads and try not to block a vehicle so its owner will be unable to get out of a parking space.

One of these days there may be enough parking for everyone.

We realize hunting seasons are beginning to open in our areas, and since it is still warm, snakes are still out.

Terrell Cuevas of Kiln got him another rattlesnake while bow hunting like he did last year.

The one this year was a lot smaller, but just as deadly as the one he shot last year that had a full grown rabbit for dinner.

So, if you are out in the woods, or even around your yard, please be on the lookout for snakes.

While on the subject of hunting, Dave Harvill called his mother Sunday morning to report he had killed a 500 pound Elk with a 20 inch spike in Colorado.

I will be waiting for my cousin's return so I can try the Elk and see how it tastes.

He went on the Elk try by himself and will be joined this week by his brother Jimmie and Uncle Milton Bernard for some deer hunting.

When it comes to hunting wild game, Dave gets his share and it does not take him long.

On his trip to Dove Creek, Colo. he left home last Thursday morning and drove the trip by himself and made the kill on Sunday morning.

We covered the Hancock North Central vs. Vancleave high school football game last Friday in Hawk Stadium.

We know football is a very intense sport, but feel it should be kept the sport it is intended on being. The officials calling the game kept the field full of yellow flags and evicted several players.

As we always say, there are two sides to every story, but, we feel from what we had seen, Vancleave's coaches lost control of their football players.

We do have to commend Head Coach Irvin Favre and his staff in keeping control of the Hawks, especially in the melee which occurred after the game near the dressing rooms.

Sportsmanship appeared to be lacking by some of Vancleave players.

High school fighting (boxing) went out a long time ago in Mississippi.

It will be Homecoming this week at Hancock North Central. The Hawks will entertain Mercy Cross from Biloxi.

The Hawks last week could have taken any high school team in the area with their super effort in defeating Vancleave for the first time in the school's history.

Too bad there were only a few loyal Hawk fans in the stadium to witness the victory.

Coach Favre has his Hawks flying and if they play as well as this past week, they should be victorious.

The Bay High Tigers have an open week and will get a deserving rest after they closed the door on East Central.

Coach Snuffy Smith continues to have his Tigers' ready to play, and they give it all each Friday.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will journey to East Central Friday seeking their first victory of the season.

The young Rocks under the guidance of Coach Vernon Powell may not be doing well this season, but, a little experience and they will come around.

The Pirates of Pass Christian will tangle with the St. Martin Yellow Jackets.

Now, the Pirates like the Rocks are also a young team and appear to be improving each week.

They have only one victory and will be trying for number two with the Yellow Jackets as victims.

We hope all high school fans will be out supporting their favorites, remember, kick-offs are at 7:30 p.m.

See you at the games.

There will be a big celebration at McLeod Park Sunday afternoon with the dedication of a monument in honor of Albert and Virginia McLeod.

The McLeod family was one of the many pioneering families in Hancock County.

The McLeod's have many descendants still in the area and others around the nation and we hope many will attend the big celebration.

It is to be a family reunion type celebration according to J. Norton Haas, one of the McLeod descendants, in addition to the monument dedication.

McLeod Water Park is located on the Jourdan River off Texas Flat Road near Hwy. 603. The dedication is scheduled for 2:30 p.m.

Father of accident victim urges alcohol-free Gumbo Festival

Echo Letters
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

As a concerned Christian and citizen, I would like to express my views in regards to the Necaise Crossing Gumbo Festival.

I only know two of the officials of the Gumbo Festival organization, Mr. Louis Breaux III and his son, Louis Breaux, who are both personal friends of mine.

One of them told me that the Gumbo Festival was a non-profit organization and that the profits that were made would go to the area churches and civic organizations.

I am sure that these people feel that they are doing a service to the community. But since the churches were instituted by God for His people to glorify Him and bring others to know Him, I cannot understand how an organization that sells alcoholic beverages can feel that they are doing a service for God's churches.

If they would do away with the alcohol at the Gumbo Festival and leave that kind of stuff to commercial alcohol outlets where God cannot be honored or glorified and where kids are not likely to go, and have a Gumbo Festival with good, clean family entertainment that God could be glorified through, then it could be a benefit to the community.

I want to ask all concerned Christians and churches to pray that God will convict the officials of the Gumbo Festival that they might see what they are doing.

Respectfully submitted as a parent of a teenager who lost his life because of the Gumbo Festival.

Pearl River Baptist pastors voice strong opposition to Gumbo Festival

October 11, 1982
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Editor,

We, the members of the Pearl River Baptist Pastors' Conference, Carriere, Miss., would like to voice our strong opposition to the annual Gumbo Festival in Necaise, Miss. because of the immoral and unchristian environment.

The sale and use of alcoholic beverages is contrary to Southern Baptist Doctrine, therefore we are totally opposed to the sale and use of alcoholic beverages, especially by minors.

Since there were several deaths in our area as a direct result of the Gumbo Festival and the use of alcoholic beverages, we hereby go on record as opposing any further schedulings of the Necaise Gumbo Festival.

In Christ's service,

Waveland attorney protests Bay St. Louis tow-away practices, fees

October 13, 1982
Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,

We refer to the policy and practice of the Bay St. Louis City Police Department of having automobiles towed away when they are legally parked, not creating an obstruction to traffic or any hazard of any kind.

Only under such circumstances, and no others, does a Mississippi statute (Section 63-3-96) authorize the towing away of a motor vehicle by a policeman, but the Bay Police Department apparently feels it is above the law!

This matter came to our attention when we loaned a truck to a friend who exceeded the speed limit on Beach Boulevard (going 44 MPH in a 25 MPH zone). He was arrested and taken to the jail for a breathalyzer test, which he passed with flying colors, but the police had our truck towed away, even though there was no reason for this, it being legally parked, off the roadway, like dozens of others are along the beach at night.

Incidentally, the truck was parked just inside the city limits of Waveland. To add insult to injury, it cost us a hefty $46 to "ransom" it back from the towing company.

Why couldn't the police have called us first instead of the towing company?

The arresting officer told us that he knew at the time to whom the truck belonged, and we live only a short distance away from where it was parked, half the distance, as a matter of fact, the towing company had to come.

The mayor and city council as well as the chief of police of Bay St. Louis apparently condone such actions.

We have asked the city repeatedly to explain its position or cite us a law authorizing this towing, but our requests have simply been "stone-walled."

Such should not be permitted. Will it take more litigation to get the city to obey this state law?

How many active law suits are still pending against the city? Why do citizens put up with this?

Teachers union opposes amendment establishing lay board of education in Mississippi

Letter to the Editor:

Those of us in opposition to the proposed Lay State Board of Education Amendment, which will be voted on Nov. 2, do not have the power or the resources the Governor's office has.

Governor Winter is using tax dollars to promote the amendment at his Education Forums, yet no opportunity has been given to those in opposition to present the facts concerning the amendment.

There are some false and misleading statements in the material being handed out at the forums.

First, one of the pamphlets—being distributed by Governor Winter (Q & A about the Lay Board) states that no elected or appointed official can serve on the board. This is a false statement.

The amendment states that no elected official can serve on the board. This is unfair to county superintendents and county school board members, since they are elected, they can't serve on the board.

Municipal superintendents and school board members can serve on the board since they are appointed.

Secondly, the same pamphlet states that the members on the Lay Board will be selected from across the state.

This is misleading since the amendment allows for seven of the nine members to be appointed from any area of the state.

The governor, speaker of the house and lieutenant governor (the same positions in state government from which appointments to the Lay Board will come from) recently appointed three Special Education Study Committees made up of a total of 41 members.

Only eight of these members come from areas of Mississippi south of Jackson.

We feel that the same representation would be on the Lay Board.

The governor of Mississippi appoints the State College Board.

On the present State College Board, only three of the 14 members come from areas of the state south of Jackson.

The executive secretary and director is a graduate of LSU.

Finally, no other state allows two people from the legislative branch of state government to make appointments to their State Board of Education. We feel that this will be unconstitutional since the Lay Board will be an executive branch. Our constitution calls for a clear and distinct separation of legislative and executive branches.

If we adopt the amendment, we will be trading an elected board and an elected state superintendent for appointed ones.

No other state has traded an elected board for an appointed board.

Five states have recently changed from an appointed State Board of Education to an elected board. Texas, New Mexico, Kansas, Hawaii and Alabama are the five states.

VFW persists in offering assistance to 'widow' of living veteran

October 19, 1982
Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

It seems that we have some over zealous and uncaring people in the VFW in Jackson, Mississippi.

Example: My husband has been in the VA Hospital in Biloxi for six months.

That is not the problem though it seems that after six months my husband is getting better physically but, his problem seems to be mental.

Anyway, to help solve my husband's problem the VFW in its infinite wisdom sends me a letter telling me that they are sorry to hear that my husband is dead.

Thank God I don't have a heart problem.

I called Henry Faler at the VFW in Jackson, he is the service officer, the writer of the letter.

I explained that my husband is very much alive. He said he got his information from the VA Hospital in Biloxi. The hospital says different but, wait that is not the end.

Two days later the same Henry Faler sends me another letter—you guessed it—"We are sorry to hear of your husband's death..."

If this is a sample of the competence of the VFW God help us all.

Hancock Jail prisoners report inordinate delays in setting trials for inmates

Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,

I am a cell mate with nine others in my cell.

I think it is of most importance people should know of the length of time it takes a person to go to trial before they are proven to have committed a crime or not have done any wrong at all.

In my cell alone waiting for court cases in confinement are at present, 9 months, 8 months, 10 months, 6 months, 6 months, 2½ months, 5 weeks, 4 weeks, plus two new men.

We are mostly working men and some have families just as others.

A public effort to help remedy this hopeless situation is the only relief we may have.

Respectfully yours

Dear Editor,

I think it is important we bring attention to this serious problem on the small hope of some response that may help our situation.

Thank you, psychiatrist from the State Sanitarium at Whitfield spoke to the court.

The 21-year-old alleged murderer wore an orange jumpsuit worn by prisoners at the Harrison County Jail where he is being held and tennis shoes without socks.

Throughout the trial he thoughtlessly stroked his thin beard forming a goatee which curled forward past his chin. He also stroked his mustache and straight shoulder-length hair.

His eyes are piercing, dark and deeply imbedded in his pocked, pale face. When psychiatrists and psychologists testified he began those actions more frequently and his right hand which frequently dangled limp from his side would apparently jerk involuntarily.

When Defense Attorney Nicholas (Mac) Haas called Billiot to testify he became agitated and said he did not want to address the court until his trial.

Haas was granted a short recess to discuss the matter with Billiot who later agreed to be questioned.

After Haas concluded the questioning, Griffin asked Assistant District Attorney Sonny Johnson if he wanted to cross-examine Billiot.

Johnson stated, "Not a word judge." Billiot swore to tell the truth and gave his name as Romeo James William Machiavelli, 96-years-old, born in Bethlehem, Israel on Dec. 24, 1885 to a three-year-old woman named Mary Read.

Griffin riveted his attention to Billiot. Billiot said he has lived in every country in the world, but mostly in Austria, Germany and France. Billiot added he has never left Israel.

He reported he has several associates in Germany and Austria.

"When I was a few weeks old I started to have muscles and was bigger than I am now at one-year-old," he stated.

Billiot said he came to Mississippi on Dec. 27 to stand trial for murder, but he has been in and out of the state before.

He reported he has spent 1.5 years in the state during the last three years, but 2.5 years since the present.

The alleged murderer said he 'knows of' Audry Crull, his mother whom he apparently killed, but she's not his mother.

Billiot said he understands Haas and Yvonne Silks are his attorneys, but is attempting to contact lawyers who represent Jews in the U.S. to act in his defense.

He also identified himself as Adolf Hitler, being born before and living as dictators and pirates.

Billiot said he is Jesus Christ and the Biblical Christ is some man who lives in Heaven.

"I've lived in every century since I was crucified," he stated.

"In the Second Century I was the Caesar who burned Rome. The Fourth Century I was Attila the Hun. I skipped to the 10th Century when I was Lief Erickson, Romeo and Juliette and Romeo Machiavelli," Billiot said.

"In the 13th Century I was Robin Hood, in the 16th Century I was Napoleon, and also Blackbeard the Pirate, Jean LaFitte, Billy the Kid and Jack the Ripper," he reported.

"In the 19th Century I ruled a dictatorship as Hitler," he stated.

Billiot said he is also known by Jewish Hebrews as Adam—the first living being.

"I'm here to condemn the world and the world is coming to an end. The world is my enemy. I don't think anyone can help..." he stated.

"I sitting here in the U.S. with a lot of protection because I live in the South, the anti-Christ is here in the U.S. and ruling now, but if I was in a Communist country I'd be executed," Billiot stated.

"There's a lot of people here who would execute me for World War I and II crimes. They could execute me, but I'd come back to life as myself. I sure the hell would. I would be my same self," he said.

Billiot reported he does not need a lawyer because evidence will prove he should be released.

"I believe what I've done is right. All I want to do is go to the people imprisoned in Israel," he stated.

The alleged murderer said his real mother is imprisoned in Israel for murder.

"I don't want to be used as an influence by saying my mother is a murderer. They persecute Christians," he stated.

Billiot said he's been stabbed and beaten by blacks and Communists who are trying to gain control of the U.S.

"Yankees and Reagan (the president) are trying to take over and I don't think it's right. How can the people in the South do this to me—I'm not Gen. Sherman. I'm sure you know who I am," he stated.

"I've got it together," Billiot said when Haas asked the defendant if he is sane.

Billiot said doctors who say he's insane are all wrong.

"At times in the last eight or ten years I've gotten a little strange and I've been possessed by demons at times," he stated.

"This has happened for the last 15 years, but I'm not possessed at this time. Sometimes the devil tries to get in me, but I control this," Billiot said.

"In 1980 I got in force against a force of the devil. South of Israel was coming to war. I sat back and cut everything off to fight him (the devil)," he stated.

Billiot said he fought the anti-Christ in Louisiana who was born of the jackle.

"In 1981 I lost most of my power, but I defeated the devil. I lost my power to work miracles and I lived on the street (the New Orleans French Quarter) without food," he stated.

Billiot said he could leave the 'common jail' he's being held in at any time.

"But I can't say yes or no in this world because the Lord works in mysterious ways. I'm still in a struggle with power or evil," he stated.

"I could play games and walk out of jail for kicks," he concluded.

Experts testifying during the hearing said Billiot is competent to stand trial, but suffers delusions.

secuting and defense attorneys met for over one hour behind closed doors.

Although the original indictment charged Otis with converting $49,000 in court fines to his own use, at the beginning of the trial, Necaise amended that amount to some $25,000.

The District Attorney said after the court session, that the $49,000 figure was based on an audit of the years between 1973 and 1981.

He said the state would only have attempted to prove Otis embezzled some $25,000 from October 1979 to October 1981.

Otis' attorney, Boyce Holleman of Gulfport, stated, "We do not change our plea that he (Otis) did not convert public money to his own use...If there is any money due to the county then it will be paid," he said.

At the beginning of the trial, Holleman told the jury that he could account for all but $35 of some $101,000 obtained by the Circuit Clerk's office through, fines, fees and court costs.

He claimed Otis did spend some of the fine money which should have been turned over to the Chancery Clerk's office.

However, Holleman argued that Otis spent the money on the operations of the Circuit Clerk's office; much of which went to pay salaries to two other employees in that office.

Holleman said charges against Otis should be of a civil nature since he claimed Otis never used the money for his own personal use.

He claimed an audit by a former FBI agent who worked for his office, showed Otis earned $7,500 per year for the two years in question.

After Otis pled guilty and the court recessed, Necaise stated the reduced plea 'is in the best interest of justice.'

He noted the case of Billy D. Silks, former Hancock County Superintendent who pled guilty to accepting money from a contractor who was later hired to repair a tornado damaged school.

"The main thing we want to do is have these people removed from office. This is a bigger penalty than having to go to jail," Necaise said.

Otis is the third elected Hancock County official to be removed from office this year due to alleged improprieties in office.

Sills pled guilty in July. Circuit Court Judge Lloyd Anderson was removed from office in April of this year upon a demand by the State Supreme Court.

During the Otis trial, former Circuit Court Deputy Caroline Ring was called to testify.

She recalled how fines assessed in the Circuit Court were paid in the Circuit Court office in installments.

Partial payments of fines were placed in an envelope which was placed in a metal locker, she said.

She said the date, amount of money, the balance of the payments and the case number, were all written on the envelope.

She said Otis usually made the deposits after all the installment payments were made.

Although both she and Otis had a key to the locker, she stated she never took any of the money from the envelopes and she said Otis never questioned her regarding any discrepancies between the figures on the outside of the envelope and the cash amount inside.

Since all the transactions were recorded on different envelopes, Ring testified that the amount of money due the office at any given period could not be determined.

Holleman noted the book-keeping work at the office was 'the most negligent type.'

WHAT ABOUT THE RIGHTS OF VICTIMS?

When a thief breaks into your home and robs you or destroys your property, you suffer a real loss.

When he's caught and convicted, the criminal may be sent to jail to pay his debt to society. But what about his debt to you?

Who pays to fix your house? Who pays to replace your valuables?

It just doesn't seem fair that you or your insurance company should have to pay. Especially when the guilty person has already been caught and convicted.

Make The Criminals Pay.

Why not make the convicted criminal pay for the damage he did?

You can. That's what victim restitution is all about. It's a law recently passed by the Mississippi Legislature.

But long before it became part of the law, James Thomas was working to make victim restitution a vital part of our criminal justice system.

They'll Think Twice Before They Act.

"Equal protection under the law is the foundation of our democracy. But sometimes it seems like criminals are more equal than their victims."

"I feel that a criminal should have to pay for any damage he's caused his victims. As Assistant District Attorney, I've routinely recommended that restitution be made a part of the sentencing of criminals."

"As Judge, I'll administer justice fairly, firmly and impartially. So criminals will think twice before they act."

He Has The Experience We Need.

James Thomas has spent his career in the judicial system of Harrison, Hancock and Stone Counties.

He grew up in South Mississippi, the son of Christine Thomas and the late L. E. "Tommy" Thomas of Gulfport.

After graduating from U.S.M., he earned a law degree from Ole Miss and went to work as a lawyer in private practice.

Now he lives in Biloxi with his wife Sue, a Biloxi schoolteacher, and their 3-year-old daughter Tiffany.

He's In Touch With The People.

As Assistant District Attorney, he's worked for all the people in Harrison, Hancock and Stone Counties for nearly a decade.

He's prosecuted hundreds of cases in the very courtroom he'll preside over as judge.

He knows the law. He knows how our Circuit Court works. And he's in touch with the people he serves.

On November 2nd, let's elect James Thomas, Circuit Court Judge.

Cooking up a storm

By Katy McGuire Caire

Chicken livers, so tasty and versatile, so easily cooked from the frozen state, needing so little in the way of preparation — what more could a cook ask of a food?

The secret of truly tasty chicken livers is to avoid overcooking them, for overcooked livers are not only hard and dry, they are also quite bitter.

They should be cooked just until firm on the outside but still faintly pink in the center — and if you cook them this way, even if you've not been a chicken liver fancier before now, chances are you'll change your mind and taste.

Livers cook so quickly, even when frozen, that they are ideal to keep on hand for impromptu meals, as well as planned-ahead occasions.

Sometimes I stockpile the livers in the freezer from whole chickens until I have enough for a meal. At other times, I buy a pound or so from the market, rinse them and pat dry. Then I spread them out individually on a baking sheet and freeze them hard I remove from the sheet and store in a plastic bag or carton.

When frozen "loose" in this way, the livers can be thawed quickly and cooked at once.

The only preparation necessary is to be sure to pull or cut off any globs of yellow fat that cling to the livers, then rise and pat dry. That's why I don't like to buy frozen livers. I prefer to remove the fat globs before freezing.

SLOW STARTS

Only to bed and oily to rise makes a car healthy. So what I advise is that once in a while — or often on trips — you check your car's oil before you put her to bed. And when you start driving in the morning, take it slow for a couple of miles to let the engine warm up.

At times I just saute (pan fry) the livers in butter, adding fresh parsley and green onions. At others, I made a tomato sauce of fresh tomatoes or tomato juice, or I blanket the livers in a sour cream sauce. Here's:

Chicken Livers with Mushrooms and Peppers
1 lb. chicken livers
2 tablespoons butter
1 clove garlic, minced
1 onion, sliced
1 large green pepper, sliced (seeded)
¼ lb. fresh mushrooms, sliced, or jar of mushrooms, drained
1 or 2 tomatoes (about ½ lb. in all)

Dash of pepper, salt optional
Saute the livers in butter very briefly, stirring the while, say a minute or so, then lower the heat, and add the onion bits, peppers and mushrooms, and continue cooking for several minutes, again stirring.

Add the tomatoes, cut into chunks, and sort of mash them to make the juices flow. Simmer two or three minutes longer. (The vegetables should still be somewhat on the crisp side. Four servings).

Serve over or with rice or grits.

And for a "double-stretch" dish, team up those relatively inexpensive livers with spaghetti. For four servings, fry a dozen or so chicken livers in butter till done. Cook the spaghetti, drain and mix with the hot livers, then sprinkle liberally with a cup of minced parsley, along with Parmesan cheese.

Or serve the spaghetti and sauce separately. Just be lavish with the cheese and parsley, and the pepper and, for me, dashes of hot pepper sauce.

NOMA exhibit includes political cartoonists

In conjunction with the special exhibition "Honore Daumier 1808-1879, From The Armand Hammer Collection," the New Orleans Museum of Art will present "Contemporary American Political and Social Cartoonists," on view Nov. 7 through Jan. 16, 1983.

The exhibition includes 100 political and social cartoons by some of the nation's leading caricaturists.

The artists, through their art, kick the establishment, blast the oppressive government, uncover corruption, attack war, violence and exploitation, as well as comment visually on human folly in its infinite variations.

Among the political cartoonists included are Tony Auth of the Philadelphia Inquirer and the Washington

Post Writers Group, Jim Borgman of the Cincinnati Enquirer, Jeff MacNelly of the Chicago Tribune and the Richmond News Leader, Bill Mauldin of the Chicago Sun-Times, Pat Oliphant of the Washington Star and University Press Syndicate, Mike Peters of the Dayton Daily News and Dan Wasserman of the Los Angeles Times Syndicate.

Also on view are comic strips by Dik Browne, "Hagar the Horrible"; Jeff MacNelly, "Shoe"; Johnny Hart, "B.C."; and Mort Walker, "Beetle Bailey." Also featured in the exhibition are New Orleans artists Bunny Matthews, John Chase and Byron Humphrey.

Contemporary American Political and Social Cartoonists was organized by the New Orleans Museum of Art in cooperation with the Jane Haslam Gallery, Washington, D.C. Most of the drawings in the exhibition are available for purchase through the Museum Shop.

ASC NOMINATIONS
Farmers are asked to nominate candidates of their choice to be on the ASC Community Committee ballot, says Franklin A. Gennin, county executive director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Office for Pearl River and Hancock Counties.

vote, and be elected to office is guaranteed to all farmers regardless of race, religion, sex, age, color, or national origin.

The ASC committee election will be conducted from Nov. 26 to Dec. 6 by mail ballot.

ASC committees are responsible for managing government farm programs on the local level. To meet the needs of individual producers, ASC committee members must be concerned and responsible individuals, Gennin said.

Pearl River and Hancock County farmers have the opportunity to nominate persons they feel would best serve the farm community. Farmers have received petition forms by mail and are now submitting them to the county ASCS office.

A few basic considerations should be kept in mind when circulating petitions, Gennin said. In order to be valid, petitions must be limited to one nominee each, must include written certification that the nominee is willing to serve if elected, must be signed by at least three eligible farm voters in the ASC community, and must be received in the county ASCS office no later than Nov. 1.

Farmers may circulate or sign nominating petitions for as many candidates as they choose. Anyone wishing to nominate a farmer for the ASC committee election may contact the county ASCS office for full details, including eligibility requirements for office holders.

"Farmers should petition for and elect those individuals they feel would do a good job as a member of the ASC committee. The election of concerned farmers to positions on ASC committees is essential in the administration of farm programs," Gennin said.

Gennin further explained that the county ASCS office welcomes all valid petitions. The opportunity to nominate,

Governor's tourism meet attracts business leaders

Some 10 Hancock County business and professional leaders attended the 1982 Governor's Conference on Tourism at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum and Convention Center in Biloxi.

The conference was sponsored by the Department of Economic Development, Division of Tourism.

"Tourism is Everybody's Business," was theme of the conference.

Over 250 delegates registered for the two days of seminars covering the tourism industry.

Seminar topics included Lodging and Food Services Industry, Transportation Services, Marketing, Travel Development and Communications, Statewide Coordination and Governmental Resources.

Governor William F. Winter was keynote speaker at an opening luncheon.

He addressed the conference theme and emphasized the importance of tourism as a tool for economic development.

Reception and dinner Monday night, hosted by the Mississippi Restaurant

Association, featured buffet tables of gourmet delicacies prepared by state chapter of the association.

Participants included Clarice Gustin, David Treutel, and Perry Gibson, representing the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce; and Jeannie Garcia, representing the City of Waveland; Mac Herring and Elva Smith of NSTL; Sty Nelson, Evelyn McPhail and Brenda Graybeal of Diamondhead; and Patty Lady of the Hancock 1-10 Hospitality Station.

Waveland businesses organizing

A group of Waveland merchants met informally last week to discuss the possibility of forming an association, according to Jeannie Garcia.

Mrs. Garcia, organizer of the meeting, said, "One of the main reasons for our meeting was for all of the business people to get together, and discuss issues affecting us all."

The next meeting will be held on Monday, Nov. 8, 7:30 p.m. in the New Waveland Library for the election of officers and naming the organization.

Garcia stated, "I personally tried to contact every merchant in Waveland as well as a few from Bay St. Louis. It was hard to see everyone and I want to encourage everyone interested to attend our next meeting. Waveland, Bay St. Louis and Hancock County merchants are invited."

One of the topics of discussion at the first meeting was the 1984 World's Fair scheduled in New Orleans and its effects on Waveland and the surrounding area.

Garcia was Waveland's representative who journeyed to Knoxville with Gulf Coast representatives last month to study the effects of the fair on the surrounding areas.

House

In other business at the Tuesday meeting, Joe Pilet, a property owner on Highland Drive in Bay St. Louis, complained of plumbing problems in her house which she said were caused by sand in the city water lines.

Pilet said she had to hire a plumber to replace all the washers on spigets in her house because they were damaged by sand. The spigets were continually dripping sandy water even when shut off, she said.

She stated a plumber suggested running her water until all the sand is out of the line. However, after running the garden hose for six hours, two weeks after the problem initially started, Pilet said she is still getting sand in her bath tub and thinks the plumber will have to return again.

City Utility Department Head Bill Johnson stated he thought sand had infiltrated the water lines when the old well on Leonhard Avenue was in operation.

The new well on Harry Street has restored water pressure and Johnson feels that the sand in the line will eventually be washed out.

Pilet questioned who would pay the bill, and suggested the council consider her problem.

In other business Tuesday, the council:

—Agreed to allow Blossman Gas to convert all police vehicles and several utility trucks to propane on a trial basis;

—Authorized the mayor to sign all documents with the State Highway Department and the Federal Highway Administration which are necessary to expedite the federally funded Main Street project;

—Agreed to obtain a second opinion from the law firm of Favre, Genin and Scafidi on a sewerage treatment contract the city is considering entering into with the county and Waveland;

—Agreed to request the World's Fair Commission to recommend having a train stop in Bay St. Louis;

—Directed Gex to draw up an ordinance concerning dumping facilities to be required at mobile homes parks being constructed in the city;

High school senior writers may win $1,000 scholarship

The Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning has announced plans for 1983 prizes in student writing.

A $1,000 scholarship will be awarded to the winner of the writing contest to be used at one of the eight public universities.

The second place winner will receive a $500 scholarship, and a $250 scholarship will go to the third place winner. All prizes will be forwarded to the public university of the winner's choice.

The writing contest is open to seniors enrolled in any public or private Mississippi high school for the 1982-83 academic session who plan to attend a state-supported university.

An entry should consist of a 500-1,000 word prose essay on the subject of "Why I Want to Go to College." The deadline for all entries is March 1, 1983.

Mail entries to: The Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning, P. O. Box 2236, Jackson, Mississippi 39205. All entries become the property of the Board of Trustees.

Entries will be judged according to the following criteria: effective use of the theme "Mississippi's Future is Mindpower," originality, clarity, coherence, control of language and grammar, and where applicable, reasoning and the use of evidence. The decision of the judges is final.

Book Review

"I happen to be soundly convinced that the female is superior to the male," says Mississippi poet Paul Ruffin.

Our Women, a new collection of poems by Ruffin is now available from Abbott House in Oxford. The volume is illustrated by Mississippi artist Glenn Ray Tutor.

Our Women contains poems about "students, wives, grandmothers, women in every conceivable sort of situation," says the poet. "Most male poets write love poems, and that means writing about women," he says. "Sometimes their attitudes do tend to become chauvinistic. I've tried not to commit myself one way or the other in Our Women."

Readers of Our Women will study a grandmother, locked in conflict with modern technology, expounding her views on life garnered in a simpler era. Readers will also glimpse inner tensions centering on a conflict between love and the eyes of the author as a child.

Ruffin, who was born in Millport, Alabama and raised in Columbus, received his Ph.D. in English from the Center for Writers at the University of Southern Mississippi and presently is director of the writing program at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville, Texas. Ruffin is editor of the prestigious Texas Review and has published over 250 works in literary journals and anthologies across the nation. A collection of his poems is included in the forthcoming Mississippi Writers: Reflections of Childhood and Youth edited by Dorothy R. Abbott.

Poet James P. known for his novel and screenplay, Deliverance, praises Ruffin's poetry as being "open, fresh, believable, and imaginatively resourceful. Its tone is personal and convincingly human, and, though friendly and likable, also aware of the dark possibilities. He is worth anybody's time, to read and learn from."

National energy specialist sees 42 percent hike in natural gas prices

By RALPH BALEW
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

A national energy specialist visiting Mississippi State University recently said that much of the current economic situation in this country is energy-related.

She said the economic problems are the result of a balance of trade deficit caused to a large degree by increasing prices of foreign oil.

Glenda Pifer, energy coordinator for the Extension Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, said the U.S. is now buying about four billion barrels of oil a day at a cost of $33 per barrel.

"Because of the decrease in the price of gasoline this summer, there seems to be a general feeling from those who have been doubters all along, that there is really no energy problem," Ms. Pifer said. "But this isn't true. We are running short on oil and other once-plentiful energy resources."

The specialist also sees a continuing increase in the cost of natural gas.

"Natural gas is scheduled to be deregulated in 1985," Ms. Pifer said. "We can expect an increase of about 17 percent in the price of natural gas in 1983 and in 1984, with a 25 percent jump when deregulation occurs in 1985."

This increased energy cost is expected to impact on families and on the farm community.

"About 50 percent of the homes in this country are heated with natural gas," she said. "Natural gas is used in the production of fertilizers, so farmers can expect higher fertilizer prices in the future. Many farmers also use natural gas in irrigation and in grain drying."

The energy specialist sees continuing increases in the cost of electricity in the coming years. She said an electric utility in the Pacific Northwest has recently published a report listing a 50-60 percent increase in the cost of electricity.

Because of the increasing prices of traditional energy sources, many Americans are turning to firewood, alcohol, solar and wind power for energy, according to Ms. Pifer.

"Because of improper installation of fireplaces and heaters, the use of wood as a source of energy for heating is causing an increase in fires in the home," she continued. "This is bringing about increases in fire insurance costs in some areas."

In Mississippi, the Energy Extension Service is addressing the energy issue by designing energy efficient homes.

Robert D. Mayo, Extension agricultural engineer, said that in addition to being energy efficient, a home should be properly oriented to the site and to the section of country.

"A person can save as much as two-thirds on cooling and one-third on heating simply by having the roof lines run from east to west," Mayo said.

"If the house is built in this manner, the sun will shine on the greatest surface area in the winter and on the smallest surface area in the summer."

The specialist also emphasized that the way the family manages the home also determines the energy costs, regardless of the energy features of the dwelling.

Energy saving appliances can help reduce the overall cost of energy in the home. For example, the cost of a refrigerator represents only about 30 percent of its lifetime costs. Eight percent is for maintenance and repair and the remaining 60 percent is for energy costs.

Energy saving features should offer the buyer a payback in energy saved in a three to five year period for most appliances.

Other energy work includes educational programs to help inform the public of energy saving techniques, including proper insulation, weather stripping, caulking, etc.

Work is also being done with local governments and school systems to help reduce energy costs. The center has identified a potential savings of about $580,000 in 84 government and school buildings studied.

BARREN USE—Barren land accounts for almost 70,000 acres of Mississippi's more than 50 million acres of land and water. Nearly half of the state's barren land is in borrow pits, lime pits, gravel and other mining. From mined lands come energy supplies and building materials such as sand, clay, gravel, bentonite and lime. Beaches, sand, gullied land and rock outcroppings are also included in barren land. "Some barren land can be reclaimed and put into agricultural production," said Dr. Bob Chapin, coordinator of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service Land Use Center. "As lignite is mined in the state in the future, land must be properly reclaimed to restore productivity."

MEEC Energy Answers

Q. Has The Solar Energy and Energy Conservation Bank ever been set up? Is there any hope for its future? Last thing I heard, President Reagan was being sued by some people for impounding the bank's funds.

A. A director for the bank has been named and regulations and operating procedures are being worked out. We should hear more any day about how and when the Solar Bank will begin operating.

Meanwhile, Congress is considering bank funding for 1983. The House of Representatives is considering funding of $25 million; the Senate is looking at $15 million. Once a final figure is agreed on and the final version of the bill goes to the President, he will have three choices: he can approve it, and let the bank run; he can veto the entire piece of legislation.

The funding bill is in (the Housing and Urban Development appropriations bill); or he can do what he has done in the past, sign the bill and delay the spending of the appropriated money.

For more information, or to get an answer to your energy question, contact the toll-free Governor's Service Line, 1-800-222-7622, the Mississippi Energy Extension Center, (601) 325-3152, or questions may be mailed to the Energy Center, P. O. Box 5406, Mississippi State, Miss. 39762.

REAL VIEWS ON REAL ESTATE

Dr. Dennis Tosh is holder of the J. Ed Turner Chair of Real Estate at The University of Mississippi

By Dr. Dennis Tosh

QUESTION: Lately, I read a great deal about the deregulation of the lending industry. What impact, if any, do you think this will have on the housing industry and how will it affect interest rates? D. H. Waynesboro

ANSWER: Dear D. H.: A movement is afoot which promises to change the way our major financial institutions, commercial banks and savings and loan associations operate. This movement is part of a much broader effort to deregulate various industries in the nation that have in the past been highly regulated. Many believe, as I do, that the nation's housing industry may be affected by this deregulation.

For example, savings and loan associations are now competing more effectively for deposits and are also able to be more flexible in their investments. Savings and loans may sell certificates of deposit (CDs) offering substantially higher rates of interest than what historically was being paid on passbook accounts.

Also, they now can offer interest-bearing checking accounts, referred to as NOW accounts. In addition, the maximum limits that historically could be paid on passbook accounts are being phased out.

The result of all this is that today, savers are shifting their savings into higher paying accounts, which, in turn, means that borrowers will continue to pay more for their loans than was paid in the past.

Thus, to survive, lenders are having to shift their assets to interest rate sensitive instruments. As you know, new types of variable rate mortgages are being offered by the lending industry and loans are being made for many nonhousing needs.

The effects of these moves on housing are still unclear, but lenders and potential homebuyers are watching with particular interest.

For answers to your questions, write Dr. Dennis Tosh, P. O. Box 295, University, MS 38677.

Unmerciful Hawks to 'host' Crusaders

Hancock North Central's Hawks promise to show no mercy Friday night to the visiting Crusaders of Mercy Cross in Hawk Stadium.

The Hawks, in entertaining the Crusaders before a homecoming crowd, will attempt to bring their current 3-4 season record to an even 4-4.

Friday's game will be a non-district, non-conference encounter for the Hawks whose season record in the conference is 3-2.

Hawk coach Irwin Favre feels his charges' outlook for district or conference titles have been narrowed to a small chance.

"We're shooting for a winning season, and if we can beat Mercy Cross we'll be even," Favre said.

"Then victories over Bay High the following week and a win in our closing game against Pearl River Central would put us in good shape if East Central could knock off Stone County," the coach speculated.

Favre said his Friday night backfield will remain with Scott Favre at quarterback; Dennis Lacoste at fullback; and Mark Santalla and Lydell Curry at halfback.

"Lacoste played well last week," Favre pointed out, noting the bulldozing fullback had returned to the lineup in the Hawks' 16-0 victory last week against Vancleave.

Still on the injured list is kicker and defensive mainstay Bobby Beech.

"Beech is still out—hopefully he will get the cast off his arm today," the coach explained Wednesday.

"Otherwise, we will be alright this week," the coach added.

"Scott Favre is playing well at quarterback," the coach pointed out.

"We're going into this game Friday expecting the Crusaders to do almost anything—they're big on the gadget plays and always come up with a bag full of tricks," Favre continued.

"Other than that, we don't know a great deal about them, they play teams we don't play and it's hard to make comparisons with the Crusaders." Mercy Cross comes to White Cypress this week with a 2-4 season record.

"We can't afford to let them get out ahead—we'll be looking for an early score," he revealed.

Favre said the Hawks are looking for an enthusiastic homecoming crowd following the team's big victory last week against Vancleave.

Homecoming activities are underway on the HNC campus through the week, and will include pep rally Friday afternoon, followed by a parade. An alumni reception honoring the Class of 1973 is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. in the school library.

Crowning of homecoming queen and presentation of court is slated during the football game halftime.

Kickoff is 7:30 p.m.

Pass Pirates plan to spoil St. Martin homecoming

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Pass Christian High School Pirates hope to spoil the St. Martin High School Yellowjackets homecoming game Friday night, Pass Head Coach Bob Lumpkin said Tuesday.

The Pirate mentor reported his team is practicing to improve offensive, defensive and special squad performance to beat the Yellowjackets.

Pass Christian earned their only victory of the 1982 season in a homecoming contest about two weeks ago in Wade against East Central High School in which the underdog Pirates defeated the Hornets, 12-4.

The Pirates were trounced last week 28-6 by the Pearl River Central Blue Devils on a cold Friday evening in Carriere.

Lumpkin reported St. Martin is 2-5 this season with their only victories resulting in games against Vancleave and Long Beach High Schools.

Vancleave beat the Pirates in their season opener, 14-0, and Long Beach will play the Pass in their Nov. 5 homecoming game, the last contest of the season.

But the Pirate head coach warned, "St. Martin has been beaten in their last four games, but this is the biggest team we'll play this season so far as physical size."

He said the Pirates must be prepared for anything because the Yellowjackets run option and multiple offense plays.

Lumpkin reported a St. Martin runningback named Bennett is formidable foe to Pass backs.

He also said the Yellowjackets have a "real big line."

"Physically, St. Martin is the best team we've played all year. They are physically big, strong and quick in the back field," he explained.

Lumpkin reported he is maintaining the same starting player positions, but is working to improve play executions.

"We're trying to improve what we can do, improve our intensity and execute plays without mistakes," he stated.

"We're definitely having some breakdowns we shouldn't be having," the head coach added.

Lumpkin revealed second-string Quarterback Charles Woods will not play for at least two weeks due to stretched ligaments in an ankle.

Woods is the first Pirate player benched for injuries this season.

Kickoff time Friday night at Yellowjacket Stadium in d'Iberville is 7:30 p.m.

DIRECTIONS

Pass Christian fans may attend the game by traveling east via US-90 or I-10 to I-110 and exit off the interstate business route at the Rodriguez Road exit which is also listed as the St. Martin and d'Iberville exit. On the immediate east side of the Rodriguez Road overpass is a three-way stop, there take Gorenflo Road north (paralleling I-110) to the second four-way stop which is Lemoyne Road (old US-90), turn right, travel about three blocks and turn left on Yellowjacket Drive just before the school building for stadium parking.

Auburn contest a sellout

Bulldog homecoming foe unbeaten, untied in conference play

Auburn faces Mississippi State Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Starkville's Scott Field in the Homecoming game for the Bulldogs and the first of four straight Southeastern Conference tilts ahead for State.

AU is one of just two unbeaten and untied SEC clubs in the league at this point, and Coach Pat Dye's Tigers might be the toughest defensive test for an MSU team which has faced Florida, Georgia, Miami (Fla.), and Southern Mississippi, among others, this fall.

The Plainsmen, who handled Tennessee 24-14 at Auburn a month before the Vols surprised Alabama 35-28 last weekend at Knoxville, sport an excellent corps of runningbacks to go along with their defensive unit.

Freshman Vincent (Bo) Jackson, a freshman from McCalla, Ala., is expected to be back "in harness" this week after suffering an injury which kept him out of the Tigers' 24-0 win over Georgia Tech.

The 224-pound High School All-American sports 461 yards on 63 carries for a 7.3 average and five touchdowns while scatback Lionel James, a 170-pound outside threat, owns 345 yards on 44 carries for a 7.8 average.

State will have to counter will a defense which has been ripped apart by injuries.

Last week the Bulldogs' entire starting left side of tackle Earnest Barnes of Moss Point and end Billy Jackson of Plant City, Fla., missed the 31-14 loss to Miami (Fla.) with ailments.

But MSU, which limited the Top 20-ranked Hurricanes to a field goal for the first 2½ quarters, should have no trouble in getting excited about an SEC foe on campus during Homecoming weekend.

With quarterback John Bond of Starkville via Voldosta (Ga.) High School at the throttle, MSU's offense has a nationally-rated average of 419.6 yards per game total offense.

Bond added 134 yards to his career total Saturday at Miami to bring him within 126 yards of the career mark for total offense set from 1965-67 by the vaunted Tommy Pharr, who compiled 4,289 yards. Bond has 4,163.

And the Bulldogs' speedy Michael Haddix of Walnut needs just 19 yards to pass Dennis Johnson (1974-77 with 2,284 net yards) as the No. 2 rushed in school history behind Walter Packer (2,820 yards from 1973-76).

Punter Dana Moore of Baton Rouge, La., skyrocketed the longest regular-season punt of his career in the Orange Bowl last week with a 69-yard against the Hurricanes after he had boomed a Hall-of-Fame-Bowl-record punt of 74 yards last winter in a 10-0 postseason triumph over Kansas.

State's plans for stadium expansion to 47,000-plus seats at Scott Field by 1984 continue to be fueled by the sellout nature of Saturday's encounter as 33,000-plus (includes game workers) are expected to be on hand.

CBS televising JSU, Grambling contest

Jackson State University will play Grambling State University in a key Southwestern Athletic Conference game Saturday in Tiger Stadium on the Grambling campus.

Kickoff time for the game was switched from 1:30 p.m. to 11:30 a.m. to accommodate CBS which will be regionally televising the game.

The game is a pivotal SWAC contest for both teams. Both teams will enter the game with 3-0 conference records. JSU is 5-2 overall and Grambling is 5-1 on the season. Both teams are coming off big conference wins this past weekend.

Grambling eased by Mississippi Valley State 21-14 and Jackson State defeated Southern University 17-10 in Baton Rouge.

Jackson State will be looking for its first win over Grambling since 1975 when the Tigers handed Grambling a 24-14 defeat in Jackson.

Jackson State hasn't had much success against Grambling in the past trailing in the series 8-21-1.

"We know that Grambling has an excellent team," said JSU head coach W. C. Gorden. "They have excellent personnel both offensively and defensively. One of the keys to success against them this year will be controlling their great wingback Trumaine Johnson."

So far this year Johnson has caught 21 passes for 376 yards and seven touchdowns. Johnson is not the only ball player with impressive stats on the Grambling team. Quarterback Hollis Brent has completed 57 of 117 passes for 865 yards and 10 touchdowns. Fullback James Taylor has gained 488 yards on 96 carries. Both teams are rather evenly matched both offensively and defensively. Grambling is averaging 318.8 on offense and giving up 197.3 on defense. Jackson State is averaging 317 yards total offense while yielding 204.4 yards defensive-ly.

Even with the injuries, the Tigers have found some bright spots on offense. Second string quarterback John McKenzie had a sparkling night in the Tigers' win over Southern. McKenzie, a 6-2, 170 pound sophomore from Miami, Florida, completed 12 of 22 passes for 161 yards and one touchdown. During one stretch late in the third quarter and early in the fourth quarter he completed eight consecutive passes, including an 11 yard TD pass to tightend Cleo Simmons. McKenzie was also the game's top rusher gaining 96 yards on 18 carries. McKenzie was named SWAC co-offensive player of the week for his performance against Southern.

Simmons is the Tigers' leading receiver with 19 catches for 297 yards and three touchdowns. Thirteen of his catches have come in the last two games. He had 8 catches for 151 yards against Florida A&M and five catches for 55 yards against Southern.

Mario "Dirt" Kirksey had an outstanding game against Southern. The senior middle linebacker who has already been named SWAC defensive player of the week twice this season, had 10 tackles and two quarterback sacks to lead the Tiger defense which limited Southern to 141 total yards. Kirksey has 60 tackles this season. He also has one interception which he returned for a 19 yard TD.

Jr. Rocks top Stone

The St. Stanislaus Junior Varsity defeated the Stone Tomcat Junior High team 16-0 last week.

The Rocks scored first score came on by Todd Thrifley. Mark Logan made the two extra points.

Later in the game Logan scored on a 28 yard run. Joe Goldman scored the two point conversion attempt.

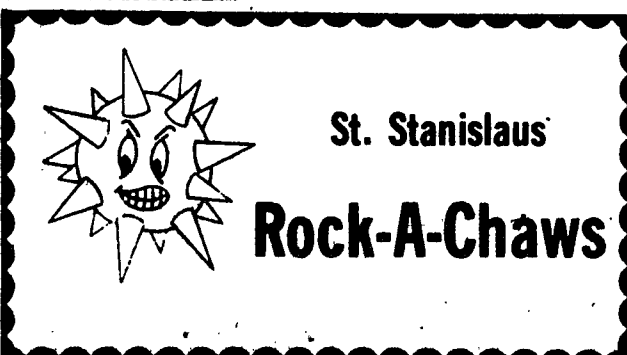

The offensive line for the Rocks was lead by Tim Britt, Arthur Wynn and Clay Leyser.

On defense, David Pitolo, Martin Dempsey, John Ladner, Louie Schruft, Arthur Wynn, Brian Arceneaux, Mark Logan and Todd Thrifley all contributed to the shut-out victory.

The Junior Rocks, coached by Truman Schultz, are four and two for the season and will play East Central tonight at St. Stanislaus Stadium.

WINNING HAWKS—In action Friday against the Vancleave Bulldogs are HNC Hawks Danny Foy (87), Dennis Lacoste (46), Mark Jackson (41) and Mike Gaudin (55). The Hawks wiped out Vancleave 16-0 in an action-packed event at Hawk Stadium. Hawk mentor Irwin Favre promises an equally exciting evening for the fans this week when Hancock hosts the Mercy Cross Crusaders of Biloxi in a homecoming contest. Kickoff is 7:30 p.m. (Echo staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

St. Stanislaus will be on the road again Friday against the East Central Hornets in Wade as the Rocks try for their first victory of the 1982 football season.

East Central also has had an off year, winning only one game.

"Their record is deceiving," Rock-A-Chaw Head Coach, Vernon Powell stated. "They are a scrappy bunch of kids, real quick. We'll have to slow them down."

Powell's troops will stay with their same basic line up and game plan and try not to "make mental mistakes."

Tackles Jerry Kelly and Kirk Enclious are questionable for the Hornet game.

Both are recovering from injuries sustained in the hard hitting Stone County contest last week.

Two other players, Jimmy Thrifley and Jordan Bradford probably will start. Both suffered minor injuries during the 42-9 loss to the Tomcats.

Darrin Scarborough, expected to play last week, did not due to a re-injury of his collarbone in practice. Doctors have advised him to stay on the sidelines the remainder of the year.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Hawk 7&8 Graders defeat St. John, 28-0

Hancock North Central's Seventh and Eighth Grade Football Team this week trounced the St. John Eagles in Gulfport, 28-0.

The high-flying Hawks scored in all four periods, with halfback Todd Peterson racing in for touchdowns on runs of 15, 75 and 70 yards.

Quarterback Shannon Smith passed to tight end Troy Wicktom in the first period for the Hawks' first tally.

Another Smith-to-Wicktom aerial added two more points to the first six, giving the visitors an 8-0 lead at the end of the period.

Peterson's 15-yard touchdown run came in the second period, with Delano Lewis adding two on a reverse.

The Hawks led 16-0 at the half.

The Hawk scoring

halfback's long run for the evening came in the third period when he posted his second touchdown on a 75-yard gallop.

The extra point attempt was incomplete, giving the Hawks a 22-0 edge going into the last quarter.

Peterson's final touchdown on the 70-yard burst sealed the scoring for the evening, giving Hancock its 28-0 victory.

Outstanding on defense for the Hawks were Steven Croll, Casey Hoda, Tommy Bond and Lewis, all of whom recovered fumbles.

Hoda picked up two loose balls during the contest.

Lewis captured two errant Eagle passes and Tony Hickman picked off another.

HNC will give St. John another chance at 6 p.m. Monday when they host the Eagles in Hawk Stadium.

Wildcats still alive for playoff slot

The fate of Pearl River College making it to the state playoffs is still in the hands of the Wildcats.

After dropping a heart-breaking 17-14 loss to the undefeated Gulf Coast Bulldogs last Saturday, the PRC Wildcats can still secure a playoff berth by beating Southwest this week and Co-Lin the following week.

Both South Division games will be played in the Dobie Holden Stadium on the PRC campus.

PRC, the nation's 14th ranked team going into the contest against the eighth ranked Bulldogs, came within one yard of pulling off a win against its arch-rival.

Facing a first and goal from the one yard line, the Wildcats were denied on three downs before Tony Smith's 20 yard field goal from the right hash-mark sailed right.

The three pointer would have tied the score at 17. A five yard aiding the runner penalty and a bad spot aided the Bulldog defense.

"It would have been nice for us to have won," said J.C. Arban, the Wildcat's head coach. "We fought back hard and could have won or at least tied the contest. I do know we got beat by a very good football team."

The loss put the Wildcats' record at 5-2 and 3-1 in the South. Hinds' Eagles are also 3-1 but they have Jones and Gulf Coast remaining on their schedule. Jones and Co-Lin still have a slim chance of making it to the playoffs.

"We can assure ourselves of a playoff spot if we win our next two," Arban said. "But we can't have a letdown this week."

The Wildcats will entertain the Southwest Bears this week for Homecoming. The Bears are 0-4 in the division, but they do have a strong defense and could cause the Wildcats a lot of problems.

Arban pointed out that the loss Saturday night against Perk was a biggie. "If we had won we would have been in the drivers seat," Arban said. "It also means now, if we do take second place, we will have to play the number one team in the North on their home field." It's almost a sure bet Northwest will have the number one nod upstate as the Rangers are presently 7-0 and ranked number three in the nation.

It's possible, but not likely, that the Gulf Coast "Dogs will run into trouble during the remainder of the year. The Bulldogs have Hinds, Co-Lin and Northwest left on their regular schedule.

Captains for this week's game will be all the PRC sophomores.

PERK DUMPS CATS
Pearl River and Gulf Coast met in the Biloxi Municipal Stadium last Saturday, in a classic junior college football contest. The game with the most riding on the outcome was everything it was billed to be.

Gulf Coast, the nation's number eight ranked team, edged out Pearl River, the nation's 14th ranked team, 17-14 in a tremendously hard-hitting and emotionally filled contest.

Perk not only won the contest of the arch-rivals, but they also kept its perfect record intact and took over sole possession of the first place in the South Division.

The Bulldogs' win did not come easy. In fact, the Wildcats came within one yard of pulling the game out in the last stages.

Trailing 17-14 with less than 5½ minutes to play in the contest, PRC's Jimmy English made a sensational catch on a tipped pass from quarterback Chuck Bounds and raced 68 yards to the Bulldogs' 8-yard line. Aided by a Gulf Coast pass interference penalty in the end zone, PRC later had a first-and-goal from the 1 and failed to come away with any points.

On the first-and-goal from the 1, Bounds tried to sneak into the end zone and the Wildcats were called for a penalty when in official said the PRC running backs tried to help push bounds across the goal line. The five yard penalty brought the ball back to the 6.

Three plays later, with the all resting on the 3, Arban sent in the field goal unit and watched as kicker Tony Smith booted a 20-yard field goal attempt from the right hash mark off to the right of the post.

Saturday's loss dropped the Wildcat's to 5-2 overall and 3-1 in the South Division. Gulf Coast increased its record to 7-0 overall and 4-0 in the division.

Gulf Coast opened the scoring in the emotion-filled grudge match. Following a PRC fumble at the midfield stripe, the Bulldogs marched to the 23 where Bruce Eubanks drilled a 40-yard field goal to put the home team on top 3-0.

Don Williams helped Pearl River come back to take its only lead of the night by intercepting a pass from Gulf Coast's quarterback Tim Kendrick at the Bulldog 25 and returning it down to the 13. Two plays later Bounds dove in for the score and Smith added the PAT to give the Wildcats a 7-3 edge.

Gulf Coast used two big plays in the second quarter to build a 17-7 halftime lead.

A 64-yard Kendrick to Joey Anderson touchdown pass and an 84-yard scamper by Craig Havard with 5:27 remaining in the first half put the Bulldogs on top to stay.

Havard finished as the game's leading rusher with 195 yards on 22 carries.

In the third quarter, PRC narrowed the deficit to three and set the stage for the dramatic conclusion by driving 74 yards in 12 plays for a score.

A 5-yard Bounds to James Jenkins scoring toss capped the 74-yard drive.

Weekly awards go to Henry Martin, Pine, La., for special teams; and Jeff Douglas, Hattiesburg and Tommy Hillman, Petal, as the best defensive back and lineman.

Tight end James Jenkins, Petal, was named the Wildcat's best offensive lineman this past week and Edward Holt, Coplarville, was named the best offensive back.

PRC Homecoming activities begin at 7:30 p.m. with the game against Southwest starting at 8 p.m. Saturday night.

FISH OF ALL COLORS

Nature seldom does anything without a purpose, and so it is with the coloration of fish. Whether they blend into their habitat as do bullhead catfish, or stand out in brilliant hues like pumpkinseed sunfish, fish are colored for a reason.

Color — or the lack of it — serves two basic purposes in fish. Some species use color as a means of protection. This works two ways as some fish are brightly colored to warn predators of possible toxicity if eaten, while others are camouflage-colored to blend with nature. Color is also a means of attraction. The male fish of many species intensify in color, even create colors not normally visible, during spawning season. Male members of the sunfish family, for example, develop a white rim around the anal and dorsal fins while courting.

Some of the most colorful fish are the smallest.

Pre-game activities begin at 7:30 p.m. in A. L. May Memorial Stadium with the presentation of the Sam Owen Trophy and the crowning of homecoming queens from the three campuses.

The Sam Owen Trophy is given annually in recognition of distinguished service to the college and the community. It is named in honor of the late Sam Owen, Gulfport business man who lost his life in Hurricane Camille.

At 8 p.m. the Gulf Coast Bulldogs play the Cophia Lincoln Wolves. Halftime entertainment will feature the GCJC Marching Band and precision drill team.

To make reservations for the reunion luncheon and banquet, contact Ruth Ford, Alumni Association college representative, at Perkinston Campus.

Bulldog kicking specialists lauded

Two Mississippi State kicking specialists who will be finishing their college careers this year and playing in their last Homecoming game Saturday against Auburn at 1:30 p.m. have definitely left their marks on Bulldog football.

MSU punter Dana Moore, a 5-11, 185-pound punter-placekicker from Baton Rouge, La., sets a school career record each time he kicks a field goal. He now has 29 in 45 career tries, and the second-most three-pointers in a career at State came off the foot of Kinney Jordan, who was '23 of '40 from 1975-76.

Moore also launched a regular-season-longest punt of 69 yards against Miami (Fla.) last week and is approaching Dick McGraw's MSU marks for career punts at 215 and yardage at 8,363 from 1965-67. Moore has punted 199 times for 8,107 yards and the second-highest average in MSU annals, 40.7 yards per boot.

Bob Morgan, State's career leader in extra points made, attempted, and percentage made with 66 of 69 PATs since 1980 (he transferred to MSU as a sophomore) for 95.7 percent.

In an effort to respond to the needs of sponsors across the state, the Mississippi Department of Cultural Affairs is compiling a touring directory of performing artists. The directory, which will be available to the public, is intended to serve as a resource tool for sponsors to use in planning their performing arts programs.

Any individual or group interested in being listed in the directory should apply to the Mississippi Arts Commission by later than Nov. 15, 1982. This deadline has been established in order to get the directory out to potential sponsors by Jan. 1, 1983 so that it may be used in planning the upcoming 1983-84 season.

To obtain an application form and for any additional information, please contact the Mississippi Arts Commission, P.O. Box 1341, Jackson, MS 39206 telephone 601-354-7336.

News Brief

CHECK THE OIL

We Americans got a little soft there for a while. We'd drive into a service station and say "fill 'er up" and "check the oil." Well, nowadays we're back to filling stations, and, if anyone's going to check the oil and everything else, it had doggone better be you. Otherwise, you may be in the market for a new car sooner than you think.

If your next tank of gasoline was the last you could ever buy, you'd probably find that walking, jogging, and bicycling are excellent ways to get from here to there... and that using the telephone can eliminate the need to make some trips altogether. So drive as though the next tank is your last... and start saving energy.

RECOVERED FROM CRIPPLING BACK

This patient suffered for years with back pain that it would cripple him. He tried almost every type of treatment, but nothing worked. He was told he may never have to leave his home. He was almost ready to submit to a spinal fusion when a friend persuaded him to at least have a chiropractic examination before undergoing such an operation. A complete analysis and x-rays revealed the true cause of his painful condition. Even though much damage had already been done, chiropractic application of scientific adjustments cleared up this condition and the patient has never had to have surgery. If you suffer from back pain, it would be wise to consult a doctor of chiropractic - others do you know?

Mississippi Brownbuilder Gary Reeves: One of the Best

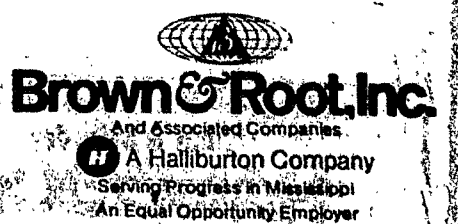

Gary Reeves, from Laurel, is helping build the economic growth and progress of his state as part of Brown & Root's worldwide engineering and construction team.

Gary joined Brown & Root in 1981 as a paramedic. He and his wife, Terri, have a daughter and live in Pascagoula. A graduate of the Gulf Coast Paramedic Program, Gary regularly works with local ambulance services and helps man the emergency room of the Singing River Hospital as a volunteer.

Another thing about Gary: he's one of the best. He's helping Brown & Root do a better job, because he knows his job and gets it done right.

Wherever Brown & Root works, we always look for people like Gary. We give preference in hiring to people in jobsite communities and offer them opportunities to advance as fast and as far as their abilities and merit take them. That way, we share the benefits of every job with local people and share the economic benefits of payrolls, purchases, savings and taxes with local communities and states.

Brownbuilder Gary Reeves helps us all by being one of the best.

Leake County farmers shatter state corn production barrier

By JIMMY BONNER
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

WALNUT GROVE—Two Leake County corn farmers have shattered a production barrier that has eluded Mississippi growers for generations.

James and Charles Henderson of Walnut Grove this summer became the first growers in the state to produce and record more than 200 bushels of corn per acre on at least five acres.

The Leake County father and son averaged 219 bushels per acre on 5.4 acres. In their entire corn acreage, they produced about 120 bushels per acre on 138 acres.

The Hendersons' record-shattering corn yields compare to the projected Leake County average of 44 bushels per acre and to the state average of 62 bushels for 1982.

The farmers were recognized for their achievement recently at Mississippi State University by being awarded a trophy from the Potash and Phosphate Institute as the first farmers in the state to produce 1,000 bushels of corn on five acres.

Although the Hendersons weren't the first to break the 200-bushel per acre barrier in the state, their production marks the first time the feat has been accomplished on as many as five acres.

The current season marks the second year the Hendersons have produced unusually high corn yields. In their first year to grow corn in 1981, they produced 140 bushels per acre on two acres.

Both farmers attribute the record-setting yields to planting high-yielding varieties in good soils followed by plenty of rainfall and moderate temperatures this spring and summer. The producers follow the most current management practices.

James Henderson, the father, said the corn crop received 20 inches of rain during the last of July and early August when the corn was preparing to develop grain.

"After the last two dry years, we were ready to irrigate," he said. "But we had to irrigate only once this year."

Plant nutrients such as nitrogen, potassium, phosphorus, boron and zinc were applied at recommended rates at planting and during the corn growing season.

James Henderson said high temperatures on the corn crop as it was beginning to mature were not a negative factor in corn production this year, as often is the case.

"The temperature was in the upper 80s when the corn was pollinating," he said. "It never got above 90 degrees during pollination."

High temperatures which restrict pollination and increase plant respiration are the greatest limiting factor to corn production in the state, according to Dr. Charles Baskin, a grain specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

High temperatures and lack of adequate soils suitable for corn producing states like Illinois, where good weather and soils permit farmers to average about 150 bushels per acre Baskin said.

Baskin said these problems are why farmers in the state plant only about 100,000 acres of corn each year. More than 3 million acres of soybeans and 1 million acres of cotton are planted each year in the state.

James Henderson said planting enough seed to produce about 28,000 corn plants per acre also was a key in getting the record yields. They planted in rows 30 inches wide.

"By planting in narrow rows, a farmer can get the same plants per acre and have more space between the plants for the corn to grow," he said.

The Hendersons started growing corn two years ago as an income source and to help rebuild soil organic matter lost by several years of producing soybeans. Corn helps build organic matter by returning more plant residue to the soil.

"Corn prices were good at that time," Charles Henderson said. "We felt like we could produce an income with corn while building our soil." The Hendersons sell their corn for grain.

The Hendersons believe corn yields in the state will continue to increase as farmers go to compact crop spacing to get more production per acre.

Baskin said some producers in the state have produced 200 bushels of corn on an acre, but not on as many as five acres.

He said the all-time record for corn yields in the state on one acre is 304 bushels, set in the 1960s by a young north Mississippi farmer.

Corn production in the state peaked in 1939, when growers produced 3.3 million acres of corn to feed farm animals. Yields in 1939 were about 12 bushels per acre.

County Agent's Notes

by John Smith

FARMERS' CRUNCH

Farmers already are in serious financial trouble, and the feeling among many observers is that the crunch is going to get worse before it gets better.

It's true that declining interest rates are providing some relief. The government also is helping to tide crop producers over by advancing deficiency and diversion payments on next year's crops.

But farm lenders warned last year that 1982 would be a crucial year for many of their customers who were deeply in debt. It's now apparent that, at projected crop prices, many farmers won't be able to pay off or even reduce their loans this year.

One major U.S. Agricultural marketing firm estimates that cash receipts from farming this year will be less than total production expenses for the first time in history. It predicts the negative balance will be repeated next year.

The prospect of even a small number of farmers not surviving the winter is bad news. If a certain number of farmers in a community is on the verge of bankruptcy, there must be many others who can not hope to survive the squeeze for more than another year. And 1983 isn't expected to offer much relief, is any.

These circumstances add up to the possibility of more land changing hands this winter, as farmers are obliged to sell to pay off loans. The effect of the crunch, in addition to driving some farmers out of business, is to drive land prices down even further as more land is available than a sluggish market can support.

CROPS THAT SAVE

Legumes produce their own nitrogen, which means they can save farmers considerably on nitrogen fertilizer costs. Some types of clovers, for example, produce 100 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre. The clover or crops growing with the clover use the nitrogen without the farmer having to buy it.

Clovers also are desirable because they provide excellent quality grazing for cattle and extend the grazing period when they are grown in combination with other kinds of grasses.

Safety specialist urges caution in kerosene heater use

Many Mississippians rely on portable kerosene heaters to keep Jack Frost out of their homes and they may be endangering their health and safety if they are not extremely cautious in using the appliances.

Dannie Reed, farm safety specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, said in addition to posing a severe threat of fire in the home, portable kerosene heaters lower the quality of the air in the home.

Manufacturers recommend that a window or door be left ajar at least one inch when the portable heaters are in use, but many individuals disregard that suggestion.

When the heater is operated in an unventilated area dangerous levels of carbon monoxide can develop.

Carbon monoxide is a colorless, odorless gas that builds up in the red blood cells and inhibits their ability to carry oxygen to the brain.

It may take hours or only minutes for a deadly level of carbon monoxide to build up in the blood stream. Simply getting out of the room and into the fresh air is not always enough to prevent carbon monoxide poisoning.

It takes anywhere from 10 to 24 hours for the bloodstream to rid itself of carbon monoxide. It is possible for a person to die of suffocation even after being removed from the room in which the poisoning happened.

Early symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning include dizziness, drowsiness, headache, nausea and/or vomiting.

Some models of kerosene heaters have shut-off valves that stop the flow of kerosene and extinguish the flame in the event the heater is upset.

If a portable kerosene heater is used, there are several precautions that should be followed.

Never leave children unattended in the presence of a burning kerosene heater.

"If you must run to the store for something, take the children with you or to a neighbor's home or turn the heater off until you return," Reed cautioned.

Use only "clear white" kerosene in the heater. Never use gasoline.

"If gasoline is used, it will very likely cause a serious fire or explosion," Reed said.

Open a door or window at least an inch.

"Even though you may not experience any of the symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning, the accumulation over a period of weeks of small doses of carbon monoxide can be dangerous, especially to pregnant women, infants and the elderly," he continued.

Keep the heater away from curtains and drapes. Protect it from being overturned by pets or children. Do not use it as a clothes dryer, never place

Southern Misconceptions Explained

Editor's Note: Skip Horne, son of Mrs. Kenneth B. Peery of Diamondhead and valedictorian of St. Stanislaus High's Class of '82, is a freshman in Georgetown University's School of Foreign Service in Washington, D.C. His article reprinted from The Hoya, Georgetown student newspaper on which Horne is a staff writer.

By SKIP HORNE

Hoya Staff Writer

The South: it's a great place to visit, but you wouldn't want to live there, right? You secretly hoped your roommate would be from any place in the U.S. besides the South.

The fateful day that the room assignment arrived in the mail, you were a nervous wreck. You prayed to see the words "New York" or "Ohio" as part of your roommate's address.

Quickly you scanned the computer printout. Could your eyes deceive you, or did it plainly say "Mississippi"?

You were in shock. But after all, computers were known to make mistakes, weren't they?

Immediately, visions of Ma and Pa sitting on the front porch rocking back and forth began to invade your thoughts.

If you were fortunate enough to get one of us "Suthunhs" for roomies, well, you were in for a pleasant surprise!

1) No, not all of us talk funny. Well maybe occasionally, y'all.

2) Texas is not just football and oil fields. And no, not everyone watches Dallas and shops at the Galleria in Houston.

3) We know what good food is—whether it be seafood, French cuisine, Mexican, or just plain ol' red beans and rice.

4) The 1982 World's Fair is being held in Knoxville, Tennessee. No, not Nashville. That's where the Grand Ole Opry is.

5) Contrary to popular belief, Florida is a Southern state, not a Caribbean resort.

6) You know the planes that constantly fly overhead bound for National Airport? Betcha they're eventually headed for Atlanta. (If you are a Southerner, you understood that one).

7) The clothes you're wearing, if not from Hong Kong, are probably from the mills in North and South Carolina.

8) We know how to throw a great party. Ever heard of Mardi Gras?

9) Last but not least, did you ever stop to realize that you're in the South right now? Remember in high school they taught you about the Mason-Dixon Line? Well, as much as they'd like to deny it, Georgetown is a "Suthun" school. And you thought you were safe.

These are but a few misconceptions that some Georgetown students have about the South. We hope that you understand a little more about us now.

And if you think I've made everything in the South sound great, just remember the New Orleans Saints.
